ROLE: FACULTY

NOTE: Faculty members have a default level of access upon logging into SDSU Navigate, which includes all of the functionality described below. They do not need to request special access to SDSU Navigate, unless they are a major advisor or department chair/director, which would provide student performance data such as GPA, progress toward degree completion, access to reports and analytics, etc.

Your Home Screen

The options on your homepage will look different depending upon the role you have been assigned in SDSU Navigate (i.e. advisor, peer advisor, professor, front desk, etc.). The most important components of your home page are:

- A. Left Hand Navigation Bar/Menu: vertical icons that border the left side of the screen. Use these to navigate between the different functions available in SDSU Navigate.

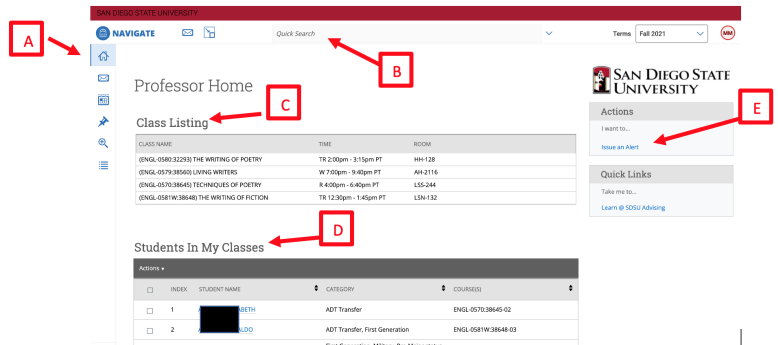

- House = Home Screen
- Envelope = Conversions
- Calendar = Calendar
- Push pin = Reminders
- Looking glass = Advanced Search
- Bullet points = Saved Student Lists & Searches

- B. Quick Search Field: enter a user's name, RED ID, email, etc. to search for a student and choose from the list that populates from this field.

- C. Class Listing: A list of all classes where you are listed as the instructor of record.

- D. Students in My Classes: A list of all students in your classes.

- E. Issue an Alert: Issue a referral or coordinated care alert for any student. You can also issue alerts from the Student Profile Screen for a specific student, or for multiple students from the "Students in My Classes" list.

LOOK UP STUDENT INFORMATION

There are two ways you can look up student(s).

- A. Quick Search: Click in the quick search field in the upper center of your screen, use the student's RedID, email, phone number or name. Once a pop up list appears, choose the correct student from the option. This function is most useful when looking up information for a single student.

- B. Advanced Search: In the keyword field, you can copy and paste a list of RED IDs from a spreadsheet. You can also search by names as well.

Student Profile

When viewing a student's profile, you will find information that describes the student, as well as links to take actions related to that student, described below:

- A. Key Information: the student's major, RED ID, term of most recent enrollment.
- B. Additional Information: the center three boxes outline any categories the student is associated with (special programs, transfer student status, minors, and more). In addition if the student has a tag on their profile (e.g., they are on leave of absence or a special outreach list) you will see this here. Finally, you'll see whether they are full or part time and what their degree objective is.

- C. Actions Menu: View any alerts on your students, and take action for the student. You can message a student (email or text), add a reminder to a student profile, you can report on an advising session or conversation you had with a student (optional), schedule an appointment, or issue an alert.
- D. Student Info: view the student's contact information.
- E. Your Success Team: see who the students assigned advisors and other instructors are.

Take Action from the Student Profile Screen

- A. Staff Alerts*: identifies if any "Alerts" have been placed on the student. For example, if the student is considering a Leave of Absence, a "Leave of Absence / Departure alert" may be placed on the student. Alerts may open "Cases" which are managed by the assigned staff member.
- B. Action Links: use links to take action with or for the student.
  - Message student: message the student (email and/or text). Please adhere to the SDSU Navigate Communication Standards.
  - Add a reminder: add a follow-up note (to yourself) to follow up.
  - Report on Appointment**: add an advising report to the student's record.
  - Schedule an Appt.: schedule a future appointment for the student with anyone on campus. Note: only those trained to do this as part of their role should schedule appointments for other users.
  - Issue an Alert: click here to add an alert on the student.

Set Reminders for a Student

Reminders are created by staff members in order to prompt a future action regarding a particular student. This can be useful to track next steps for the staff member, to follow up on pertinent information shared during an appointment, or to reconnect with a student at a more appropriate time. For example, you may be working with a student who is having difficulty in a specific course - add a reminder to check-in on the student's progress after the upcoming midterm exams. Alternatively, the student may be exploring summer internship opportunities - add a reminder to touch base in a few weeks and find out where they applied. Staff can quickly add a reminder via the "Add a Reminder to this Student" link on the Student Profile Action Menu (described above).

NOTE: Only the faculty/staff member adding the reminder can view the reminder—these are personal to you. Students cannot see the reminders you add to their profiles.

You can see all the reminders you have added to student's profiles in one place by clicking on the "Push Pin" icon in the left hand navigation menu.

ISSUE ALERTS (Referrals)

We know that as educators our emphasis on student care and support are some of the key components to ensure their academic success. SDSU has made an investment in SDSU Navigate so we can continue to provide enhanced ways to collectively assist and support students. One of the mechanisms for doing so is Alerts. Alerts are raised by Faculty/Staff to communicate a concern about the student for referral or possible intervention. Alerts may result in an email with instructions or advice sent to the student, or to a case being opened and managed by a qualified SDSU employee. Alerts available include:

Alert Name	Type/Purpose	Submitted By	Management
Academic Support Referral	A student needs academic support for a course or subject area, or needs support with conducting research, etc. Please do not add any specific details into the "Additional Comments" box when issuing the alert. The student will receive an automated email message about how to access a variety of academic support services at SDSU. Under "Additional Comments": identify the course(s) and/or details on why you believe the student could benefit from tutoring, supplemental instruction or other academic resources.	Any User	Non-Case Alert: no case is opened. An email is sent to the student.
At-Risk to Fail	Instructors check this box as part of a Progress Report, or in an ad-hoc fashion, when a student is at-risk to fail the course. ## From the Staff or Professor “Home” screens

Step 1: Select “Issue an Alert” from the “Action” menu.

Step 2: Search for the student for which you want to issue the alert.

Step 3: If the alert is related to one of the student’s courses, select that course from the drop down list.

Step 4: Add any comments.

Step 5: Click Save.

The screenshot shows the 'ISSUE AN ALERT' form. Red numbered boxes indicate the following steps: 1. Student (search field), 2. Please select the reason you believe this student needs assistance (dropdown menu), 3. Is this alert associated with a specific class? (dropdown menu), 4. Additional Comments (text area), and 5. Submit (button).

On the Student Profile

To issue an alert from a student profile, select Issue an Alert from the Action pane as in the following screenshot.

When Completing a Progress Report

Faculty can also issue alerts through Progress Reports, which are requests for updates on student progress (for athletes and EOP students only) in a specific course. The only alert available on the form is the “At-risk to Fail” alert.

COMMUNICATE WITH STUDENTS

Advisors are expected to communicate with their students using SDSU Navigate, and such communications are subject to FERPA and the SDSU Navigate Communication Policy.

NOTE: Please see the SDSU Navigate Guide “FERPA: Privacy Dos and Don’ts” (Canvas Advising Homeroom), review the FERPA Guidelines from Enrollment Services, and the SDSU Navigate website (which houses the SDSU Navigate Communication Standards).

Send Messages

You can send emails or texts to one or more students from Staff Home, the student profile, or Advanced Search. Most Action menus throughout the platform also allow for sending emails or texts. You can send both text and email messages to either a single student (from a student’s profile, select “Message Student”) or to a group of students (from either a search result or a list). When the messaging management box pop up, please keep in mind:

- Use the “tabs” to toggle between “Send Email” or “Send Text,” and choose the type of message you want to send.
- After filling out the message content, if you want to “cc” another person in the message, you can add their email addresses to this field.

NOTE: Please note that texts sent via SDSU Navigate to students will come from a pool of numbers, most of which are outside of California. This means that the phone number students will receive text messages from may be registered in another state. This is a global setting for SDSU Navigate and cannot be changed (as of now). If you choose to text students, make sure that the text content clearly identifies who you are and that the text is from SDSU.

PROGRESS REPORTS

The progress report process can be a two-way street:

- Ad Hoc Progress Report: professors can submit an ad hoc progress report for a student or group of students any time there is a concern, or if they want to provide positive feedback for outstanding performance in the course.
- Progress Report Campaign: these campaigns are sent from an advising office or administration to professors to solicit feedback about a certain group of students.

Issue an Ad-Hoc Progress Report

When you have a concern about a student’s academic progress, consider discussing the concern with the student as a first step. Students early in the semester may not yet have a sense of their own progress, or they may know they are struggling but do not know how to get help. Often hearing from their instructor that they are at-risk will be just the signal they need to get back on track.

Other issues, like Health & Wellness Concerns, may be contributing to the student's challenges. If you suspect the student might need support, in addition to issuing an ad-hoc progress report, you may want to issue a Health & Wellness Alert in addition to a progress report.

Class Listing

- Click "Progress Reports" next to the course you want.
- Check the specific students you'd like to complete progress reports for, or check the "select all" box.
- From the Actions Menu dropdown, select "Create a New Progress Report."

Use The Checkboxes To Select Students From Your Classes And Then Click The "Create A New Progress Report" Button To Begin Adding A New Progress Report.

The progress report dialogue box will appear:

- Click "YES" to show you have concerns about this student, which will allow you to provide additional details. Click "NO" to provide a positive report.
- Choose the Alert Reason from the drop-down options.
- Indicate the number of absences, if an issue, or leave blank if not.
- Indicate an estimate of the current course grade.
- Use the comment box to summarize the concerns.
- Click submit report.

NOTE: Students may be able to see your comments so please be as clear as you can in your comments, with a focus on class performance, and write with the student as the intended audience.

Respond to a Progress Report Campaign

When one of your students is included in an advising or university Progress Report Campaign, you may receive an email during the semester prompting you to provide feedback on the success of some of the students in your courses. A Progress Report Campaign allows SDSU to focus on the success of specific populations of students, and your feedback about course progress is vital.

You are able to provide all feedback by clicking on the link within the email with no need to log in to SDSU Navigate. A web page will display the courses you teach and the class roster for those courses. Note that the students displayed may not be all of the students in that class as Progress Report Campaigns typically target specific populations of students, though sometimes they can target entire courses. The emailed progress report format looks a little different from completing an Ad Hoc Progress Report, however the information options are identical, including Alert Reasons, absences, grades, and an open-text box to share any additional context.

Alternatively, when you can log into your SDSU Navigate account, you will also see requests to complete progress reports listed on the top of your homescreen inside of a yellow banner:

Only those students about whom you have concerns need to be marked; the un-marked students can be submitted as not at-risk in the course by clicking the blue button at the bottom of the screen once finished.

Submit only marked students (but I'm not done)

This button will submit students you have marked as being complete (effectively removing them from your list of students). However, the students you have not marked will remain on your list. As a result, you can re-use the link in the progress report email, at any time, to continue marking the rest of the students in your classes. Repeat this process until all students have been marked in some form or fashion.

Submit unmarked students as not at-risk (I'm all done)

This is your "I'm all done" button. It will submit the students you have marked as you indicated. It will also submit the rest of your students as not at-risk. For example, if there are ten students in your course and only two of them are at-risk, you don't have to mark them all. You can mark the two at-risk students and then use this button to mark the remaining students as not at-risk, therefore saving time and effort. Please use this button carefully because with just a single click, it will totally complete your progress report campaign.

What Happens After You Submit a Progress Report?

When you submit a progress report:

1. The students Coordinated Care Advisor (CCA), Major Advisor, EOP Counselor, and Athletics Advisor receive a notification.
2. The student receives the following email:

You have been marked at-risk to fail (by your instructor) for at least one of your courses. If you are an athlete or an EOP student:

Athletes: please make an appointment with your Athletics Advisor to discuss options for tutoring and other types of support.

EOP Students: please make an appointment with your EOP Counselor to discuss options for tutoring and other types of support.

If you are not an athlete or EOP student, but you have an assigned Retention Advisor or Math Initiatives Coordinator (you can see which advisors are assigned to you in SDSU Navigate under "Your Success Team") -- please meet with your Retention Advisor or Math Initiatives Coordinator.

All other students:

Freshman and Sophomores*: please make an appointment with your Coordinated Care Advisor.

Juniors and Seniors*: please make an appointment with your Major Advisor.

**If you are part of a special program (e.g. Weber Honors College, Compact Scholars, Cultural Resource Center Group), please feel free to schedule with one of those program advisors.*

Instructions for how to schedule an advising appointment can be found on the SDSU Navigate website.

SDSU has many resources and support services that can help you improve your academic performance and assist with personal concerns. We hope you will take advantage of the plentiful programs, services and supportive people at SDSU to help.
